Background

BFS is an enterprise of ASG Renaissance (ASG), an international professional services firm with more than 22 years of experience delivering superior results.

ASG's Communications Team has consistently been recognized for its outstanding work with numerous local, regional, and international awards. In 2008, they received two Communicator Awards from the International Academy of Visual Arts, two Hermes Creative Awards from the Association of Marketing and Communication Professionals, an APEX Award for Publication Excellence, and five International Association of Business Communicator (IABC) Detroit Renaissance Awards.

As a direct result of this performance excellence, ASG established BFS to support and promote work in defense and government industries. Our mission is to supply the critical support that allows our clients to focus on their most important tasks.

Computer Based Training

The BFS Curriculum Development staff has an in-depth understanding of the unique needs of the adult learner, and we customize our training services so students gain the most from each experience. Additionally, we understand that we are primarily a society of visual learners and utilize that knowledge at all times. To that end, our developers use cutting edge programs to create, maintain, and deploy Computer Based Training (CBT) courses that are interactive and aesthetically pleasing while relaying all necessary information.

CBT courses offer more flexibility than traditional learning since courses are available via the internet, as downloads, or on CD/DVD. This allows students to access modules from a variety of locations at a time that fits their schedules. Students complete the training in a time and fashion that fits their personal needs, which leads to greater success.

Organizations benefit from utilizing CBT courses as well. Costs are reduced and scheduling opportunities are increased due to the reduced need for classrooms and instructors.

BFS offers the most advanced technology and security available and guarantees a supreme level of service for each client. Our courses blend together all forms of digital media, including text, photos, animations, audio, video, documents, spreadsheets, databases, interactive tests, and web interfaces, to promote greater overall retention and recall.
